BIO

Kevin has been an associate with the firm since 2014. His practice focuses on many aspects of real estate law, including acquisitions, dispositions, leasing, and development. Kevin also guides clients through complex bank regulations, and he advocates for clients in litigation matters.

Prior to joining the firm, he served as pro bono law clerk for the Honorable R. Brooke Jackson of the United States District Court, as well as law clerk for the Honorable Chris Zenisek of Colorado's First Judicial District. In his clerkships, he advised the Courts on complex issues arising at all stages of civil proceedings.

While in law school, Kevin interned with the Honorable Brian Boatright of the Colorado Supreme Court, served as a Production Editor for the University of Colorado Law Review, and worked as a law clerk for a boutique water law firm, where he gained experience in litigation and water law that he uses in his representation of ditch companies in eastern Colorado. Kevin graduated from Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service in 2007, where he majored in International Relations and played varsity baseball for the Hoyas.
